ABOUT COIMBATORE

Originally Coimbatore district formed part of the kongu country, the history of which dates back to the Sangam age. It is found that in early days the area was inhabited by the tribes, the most predominant among them being the Kosars who are reported to have had their headquarters at Kosampathur which probably later became the present Coimbatore.

However, tribal predominance did not last long as they were over-run by the Rashtra Kutas. From Rastrakutas the Region fell in to the hands of the cholas who were in Prominence at the time of Raja Raja Chola. On the decline of Cholas the Kongun territory was occupied by the Chaulukyas and then by the Pandyas and the cysalas.

Due to internal strife in the Pandyas Kingdom the Muslim rulers from Delhi happened to interfere. Thus the area fell into the hands of Madurai Sultanate from whom the Vijayanagar rulers wrestled for the region during 1377-78 after overthrowing the Madurai Nayaks. During the period of Muthu Veerappa Nayak and later during the period of Tirumalai Nayak internal strife and intermittent wars ruined the Kingdom.

As a consequence during the period of Tirumalai Nayak, the Kongu region fell into the hands of the Mysore rulers from whom Hyder Ali took over the area. However, consequents on the fall of Tippu Sultan of Mysore in 1799, the Kongu region came to be ceded to the East India Company by the Maharaja of Mysore who was restored to power by the East India Company after defeating Tippu Sultan. From then till 1947 when India attained Independence, the region remained under British control who initiated systematic revenue administration.

Tracing the History of Textile City - Rich legacy and promising future:

Coimbatore is the third largest city in Tamilnadu, with a population of more than 30,000 tiny small, medium and large industries and textile mills. The city is known for its entrepreneurship of its residents. The Climate is comfortable round the year. The city is situated on the banks of the river Noyyal. Coimbatore existed even prior to the 2nd Century AD as a small tribal village capital called Kongunad until it was brought under Chola control in the 2nd or 3rd Century AD by Karikalan, the first of the early Cholas. When Kongunad fell to the British along with the reset of the state, its name was changed to Coimbatore and it is by this name that is known today, except in Tamil, in which it is called Kovai. The rich black soil of the region has contributed to the region has contributed to Coimbatore's flourishing agriculture industry and, it is in fact, the successful growth of cotton has served as a foundation for the establishment of its famous textile industry.

There are more than 25,000 small, medium, large scale industries and textile mills. Coimbatore is also famous for the manufacture of motor pump sets and varied engineering goods, due to which it has earned the title "Detroit of the South". The Development of Hydroelectricity from the Pykara falls in the 1930s led to a cotton boom in Coimbatore.

The result has been a strong economy and a reputation as one of the greatest industrial cities in South India. According to ancient manuscripts, Coimbatore's history can be traced to the Irula tribal chief Kovan and his clan who were its earliest settlers and the founders of "Kovanpatti" a part of Kongunadu. Years later, the surrounding forests were cleared, and the founder of "kovanpatti" a part of kongunadu. years later, the surrounding forests were cleared, and a new village was formed called "Kovanputhur" which over the years came to be known as "Coimbatore".

In spite of its prominence as a bustling industrial city, Coimbatore still remains one of the most pollution free cities in India. Covering an area of 23.5 square kilometres, the city houses some of the biggest names in Indian Industry. The major industries include textiles, textile machinery, automobile spares, motors electronics, steel and aluminium foundries. Tiruppur - a neighbouring district has carved a niche for itself in the garments market. Agriculture however remains the major occupation.

The rich fertile soil and tropical climate is excellent for the growth of millet paddy, cotton, tea, oil seeds and tobacco. The city is also known for its educational institutions. Coimbatore Agricultural University is renowned as one of the best colleges of its industrial and technological growth, traditions and age old customs are still held in high esteem. The temples bear witness to the religiousness and love of art and architecture of the people. There are also a number of places of tourist interest around Coimbatore. Ootacamund (Ooty for Short), is one of the most popular tourist spots in India.

Perur Patteeswara Swamy Temple

Perur Patteeswara Swamy Temple is the most popular temple in the city. Built by the king Karikala Cholan. This temple is situated 7 kms west of Coimbatore near river Noyyal. The presiding deity is Shiva and the "Swayambu Lingam" is the idol worshipped here. This sanctum is the joint effort of the Chola, Hoysala and Vijayanagara rulers during their reign. The greatest attraction of the temple is the Kanaka Saba or the golden hall which is adorned by a gold plated statue of Nataraja bestowing blessings upon the two sages- Gowuni and Pattimuni. The gopurams and pillars of the hall are exquisitely carved out sculptures highlighting Dravidian architecture. The significance of perur temple in earlier days are unfolded in the poetic creations of Arunagir Nather and Kachiappa Munivar. The temple stands on the banks of the holy river Noyyal called Kanchi Manadi by the locals. Pilgrims from all over visit this spot to pay homage to their ancestors. It is believed that the mortal remains of the dead turn into white stones after about 144 days.

MARUDHA MALAI TEMPLE

About 12 Kilometers away from Coimbatore Railway Station is the Marudhamalai temple of Lord Muruga. As the name suggests, the temple is situated on a hillock and the presiding deity is called Dhandayuthapani. The celebrations of this temple are “Thaipooam” and Thirukarthikai” in Januray and February. Pollachi, an important commercial centre about 40 kms away from Coimbatore, is famous for its Mariyamman and Subramanya temples. The South Banaras or Avanashi Temple is the biggest temple in the district famous for its exquisite carvings and sculptures.

ARULMIGU ARANGANATHASWAMY THIRUKOIL - KARAMADAI

At karamadai, a place near mettupalayam there lived people by the name “Thottiyars”. one of the thottiya had a (karai pasu) cow. All off a wudden , for a few days the cow did not give him milk. Filled with anger the thottiya followed the cow and found his cow shedding milk to a kaarai bush, thhe thottiya became very furious and with his knife banged the bush and a sound exploded from the bush and blood started gushing out of the bush, people knowing this rushed to the spot and found a Suyambu Lingam inside the bush, the same night the God appeared in the dream of thottiya and ordered the thottiya to glorify him with “Chandana Kaapu”, So did the thottiya and found that it was a beautiful Ranganathar Suyambu (which is said to be growing in size every year).

ARULMIGU POONDI VELLIYANGIRI ANDAVAR THIRUKOVIL-POONDI

Velliyangiri is a beautiful temple situated in one amongst the five hills of historical importance. The five hills symbolically represent the five different faces of Lord Shiva. This is the only temple where Panchalinga can be seen. Lord Brahma was fast asleep and lacked in his duty. So to overcome his sin he started meditating at Himalayas where he got Shiva Dharisanam and was guided to continue his meditation in the name of Pattimuni at perur

ARULMIGU MASANIAMMAN THIRUKOVIL, POLLACHI

Aanamalai, a place near pollachi was earlier ruled by a king called Naanan. He had a very special mango tree in his farm on the riverside of Aaliyar, which he was so fond of. He was so particular that nobody was allowed to use neither the mangoes nor its leaves. Once, a group of girls were having their bath in the Aaliyar river and saw a mango floating on the river which belonged to Nanans tree, on anxiety one of the girl picked the mango and ate it, even after several pleadings made by her father, the king sentenced her to death. After some time the frs in that particular area formed a female figure in lying state in remembrance of the innocent girl on the graveyard sand and started worshipping her. In due course she was worshipped by the name “Maasani”. Later Kozhinkhosargal defeated king Naanan and destroyed that particular mango trees. It is believed that Lord Rama on his way in search of Seetha, was absorbed by the power of this temple, stopped here and performed his meditation adding glory to this temple.

ARULMIGU EACHANARI VINAYAGAR TEMPLE

This temple is located at 10kms from Coimbatore on Pollachi road. It is one Of the oldest temple in Coimbatore and dates to 1500 A.D. The Moolavar at this temple was actually meant for Perur Patteshwarar temple and since it got stuck on its way from Madurai, Eachanari became the blessed place. The deity's height is 6 feet and the width is 3 feet and is one of the biggest in South India.

TOPSLIP

A picturesque locale in the Anamalai Hills. It is about 37 kms from Pollachi (about 90 kms from Coimbatore) There are bungalows available within the sanctuary. For thrill seekers, accommodation is also available in a tree house.

PARAMBIKULAM

ALIYAR

The project consists of a series of dams interconnected by tunnels and canals for harnessing the parmbikulam, Aliyar, Nirar, Sholiar, Thunakadavu, Thekkadi and Palar rivers, lying at various elevations, for irrigation and power generation. The scheme is an outstanding example of engineering skill. It is located in Anamalai range and is ideal for picnics. Overnight stay is possible in forest rest houses. A tree-top house provides accomodaton for the adventures.

ANAMALAI WILDLIFE SANCTUARY:

This sanctuary is situated at an altitude of 1,400 metres in the western ghats near Pollachi. The area of the sanctuary is 958 sq.kms. It has various kinds of exotic fauna like elephant, gaur, tiger, panther, sloth bear, pangolian, black headed oriole, green pigeon and civeat cat. The Amaravathy reservoir in the Anamalais has a large number of crocodiles. There are also many places of scenic beauty such as Karain Shola, Anaikunthi shola, Grass hills, water falls,grooves, teak, forests, estates, dams and reservoirs. Arrangements are available at Topslip to take tourists around the sanctuary on elephant back or by van.

THE SIRUVANI WATERFALLS AND DAM

This waterfalls and the Dam are about an hours drive from Coimbatore. The water of Siruvani is known for its taste. The panoramic views of the dam and the falls are enchanting.
